

Brand & interface guide

sharing is caring

A warm, object-first identity for private classrooms and the people who make them feel alive.

VERSION 1.0 / 8 SEPTEMBER 2026

A classroom, not a dashboard

Qori should feel warm, clear, capable and human.

The product is for people a teacher already knows. Its identity should help someone begin and continue a real course - never imitate a public feed, a finance tool or an untouched starter kit.

Warm

Paper, ink and grounded gold.
Friendly without becoming childish.

Clear

One next action, plain verbs and honest states. No decorative noise.

Alive

Courses, progress and people appear before meters and abstract totals.

THE LINE

sharing is caring

Treat this as a memorable brand line, not the product explanation. Pair it with:
A private classroom for people you already teach.

The open-circle Q

An open learning loop: knowledge moves between people instead of being sealed away. The tail keeps the form recognisable as Q at small sizes.

Clear space

Keep at least one mark-stroke of breathing room on every side.

Minimum digital size

Mark 24px

Lockup 96px wide

Never stretch, rotate, shadow or recolour individual letters.

Paper, ink and one grounded gold

Gold carries identity and action. It is not body copy, a rainbow chart system or the only way to communicate status.

CONTRAST

Gold / Paper

4.66:1 AA normal text

Input boundaries + focus

3:1 minimum

Decorative borders may be quiet. An input cannot rely on a low-contrast line alone to look interactive. Status always includes words or an icon.

NO SECOND FONT

Warmth comes from colour, spacing, course objects and language - not a decorative typeface added during redesign week.

Objects before metrics

One H1, one ranked action, one content rhythm. Show the course and the next useful step before counts about the system.

Good morning, Rita

Your classroom is ready for its first course.

NEXT STEP

Name your first course

Create the object first. Details can come later.

CREATE COURSE

Courses

Your course appears here

8px base spacing

10 / 12 / 20

control / panel / feature radius

360px minimum review width

44px primary mobile target

Rule

A disabled action explains why. An empty state only offers actions the current role and plan permit.

One identity, three jobs

Share CourseCover and visual language. Compose studio, learner and public surfaces around the question each audience is asking.

COVER RECIPE

Derive a stable warm wash from immutable course id. The cover is decorative beside a visible title. No random rainbow, no grey void and no image upload in this pass.

Calm, direct and useful

Qori sounds like a capable teaching partner. Buttons name the result. Errors explain recovery. Success visibly changes the object.

The handoff

Ship one coherent week, then stop.

- ✓ Use the supplied SVG logo; do not redraw the mark per screen.
- ✓ Load qori-brand-tokens.css, then map existing shadcn variables.
- ✓ Use CourseCover as the shared identity primitive, not one universal card.
- ✓ Route each primary action directly to the completing control.
- ✓ Review empty, populated, failure, permission and plan-locked states.
- ✓ Check 360px, 768px, desktop, keyboard, focus, contrast and 200% zoom.
- ✓ Keep sharing is caring paired with a concrete product explanation.
- ✓ Run the existing quality gate and creator/learner walkthroughs.
